

A community of friends enjoying enriched, vibrant and independent lives together

Dear IAH Members,
Meet Steve Degnen, Chair of IAH's Marketing & Communications Committee

My wife Carol and I grew up in NYC, got married and lived in Paris for a few years. After those two boring cities, we upped our game and headed for the bright lights of Columbus OH, where we raised our family. Our first visit to Charleston was an August vacation in the early '70's. The brutal heat, bugs and humidity were offset by the charm and beauty of the area. We returned for several summers and were hooked.

We moved here in 2007 and officially started our retirement. After running a design firm for over 20 years, I quickly grew bored. At that time, I'On had many clubs and activities but none that served a broad range of ages. So in 2009, working with the HOA, I created the I'On Community Garden to give our neighbors a place to come together and form friendships through the simple act of gardening. It is still flourishing today.

My design background led me to serve on the IDC for 5 years. It was a challenging and rewarding experience, but not a great opportunity for making friends in I'On.

This is the start of my 3rd year as IAH's Marketing and Communications chair. I'm busy designing and writing your Weekly Newsletter and working to improve IAH for you, our members. Surrounded by amazing IAH volunteers makes this a fantastic job. I'm no longer bored.

We think you might like this

The Programs Committee is always looking for entertaining and enlightening subjects for our programs. We want to share some videos over the next few weeks that will brighten the winter's dark, dull months. These aren't live IAH or Zoom events but videos in the "Behind the Scenes" genre that we think you might find interesting. Enjoy!

Emmy-Nominated 'Gilded Age' Production Designer Bob Shaw on How He Recreated Late 19th Century New York

Last winter many of us were intrigued by HBO's Gilded Age series made by the same people who did Downton Abbey. Production designer Bob Shaw describes the research process he and his design team followed to create these fantastic sets and the relationship between production design and visual effects in The Gilded Age.
