

Dear IAH Members,
Meet Janet Harper, Chair of IAH's Volunteer Committee

I imagine that to my dog, I'On is a massive Venn diagram, our daily circles creating pockets of connection. Since moving here from England several years ago, getting involved with I'On At Home has broadened those circles.

IAH Volunteer Services is a perfect example: every request for household help or a ride to the airport comes with a conversation! This year we plan to launch Loan Zone, a lending library of tools, appliances, furniture, rehab equipment, and more, which fits right into our ethos of being helpful neighbors.

I've made homes in California, Chicago, Colorado, Scotland and Southern England, teaching English, travel writing, and teaching piano while my three kids were growing up. We're a bit far-flung at the moment, in Philadelphia, London and the Isle of Skye, which makes for epic reunions. The IAH Board is a sterling bunch to work with. I am also privileged to be involved in the greater community with tennis, the Charleston Garden Club and tutoring with Reading Partners.

We think you might like this

Here's a continuation of videos recommendations in the "Behind the Scenes" genre that we think you might find interesting. Enjoy!

Love music, woodworking, artistry, and factory tours?

This documentary celebrates the Fender Stratocaster from its early beginnings until 1993. The cast of interviewees is impressive and includes Hank Marvin, Eric Clapton, Keith Richards, George Harrison, Nile Rodgers, David Gilmour, Mark Knopfler, and many others. A great film about a great guitar.
